"Lee and the Southern Confederacy."

The Journal is indebted to General Magill of Jacksonville, for a handsome copy of "Robert E. Lee and the Southern Confederacy," written by Henry Alexander White, late professor of history in the Washington and Lee University. General Magill, as stated in these columns yesterday, is in Pensacola distributing this notable work.

While we have not had the time yet to review the volume in its entirety, at a mere glance between its lids one sees the superiority of the book over its predecessors. Too long even now, has the south patiently awaited the coming of a true and unbiased story of the immortal Lee and the Lost Cause, and it is more than gratifying to note the publication of Prof. White's story.

There is no sweeter story in the English tongue than that which records the life of Robert E. Lee from his birth in 1807 until his death in 1870, and the fine style of this author seems to add grace and charm to the story. Professor White has been associated for many years with members of the Lee family and consequently he was enabled to compile much first handed information bearing on the life of the great soldier and Christian heretofore unpublished.

This is the whole story, teeming with truth with the most dramatic era in the world's history. The work has been unqualifiedly endorsed by General Clement A. Evans as well as many other veterans and numerous southern newspapers. It should find a ready sale on both sides of Mason and Dixon's line—indeed many northern gentlemen sojourning in Florida have read the book and speak in glowing terms of it.

About Communications.

Again The Journal finds it necessary to call the public's attention to the fact that we no longer accept newspaper print communications sent to the office without the real name of the author signed thereto.

Several such communications have found their way to the waste basket recently for the reason that the same bore no signs of "identity." Please bear this in mind and you will have less trouble getting your communications before the public. We are always glad to publish letters from the public, provided they are couched in the right tone of language.

The Gadsden (Ala.) Journal is also making vigorous war on the pusillanimous fly, and here is one of its broadsides:

Flies are the common carriers of typhoid and other disease germs, and their presence in large numbers is always an evidence that proper cleanliness is not maintained. They are a constant menace to the public health and their control should be diligently sought by the doctors of the city, the health authorities and the city council. That they can be practically eliminated has been fully demonstrated in other cities and it has been shown that the cost is trifling compared to the great comfort and benefit to be secured. Enforced cleanliness and the proper spraying of such refuse as can not be avoided will relieve us of the pest and a failure to do this is nothing less than sleeping over a volcano that may overwhelm us with an epidemic of fever at any time. Now is the time to act.

Every word is just as true as preaching. Don't neglect your duty. Start to killing these pests today.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal, apropos the recent cold snap prints this good advice to the farmers:

Do not plow your fatted cotton until you are sure the seed is dead. Do not be in too great a hurry about replanting if the land is in bad condition.

If, after the heavy rains, the land is baked, run a harrow over it. This is a critical time in the planting season. Exercise of care and caution may be of great benefit.

If the first planting of corn is ruined, do not be discouraged. Plant again. Corn that is up and slightly frost bitten will recover, if the weather is favorable.

This sounds sensible and if good for Tennessee farmers is good for Florida farmers.

Mayor Gaynor of New York is said to be somewhat of a long-winded walker. He made his reputation as a runner, however.

There seems to be much diversion of opinion as to the wisdom of President Taft in appointing Governor Hughes to the supreme bench. While the governor has not expressed his views on this point it is fair to assume that he will acquiesce in the opinion of those who endorse him. Any other view from him would be bordering too close onto the unique to become a politician.

John W. Kern would make a good senator, and we hope he wins. Indiana and the country at large would be proud of this unassuming democrat once he is seated in the senate. Kern will have the fight of his life though, defeating Beveridge.

Two North Carolina papers are debating the question, which, simplified, reads, "Are country girls pretty or homely?" Such a discussion might be necessary, or excusable in North Carolina, but not so down here. All Florida girls are pretty.

The New York Sun gives vent to its usual grouch apropos the colonel's Sarbonne speech. The Sun's reputation is that of a tireless, sneering grumbler more than of the brilliant advocate.

Some of the papers are still speculating on the probable clash between England and Germany. Meantime peace between these two foreign powers is thriving.

Whenever the Ballinger-Pinchot case is labelled, "Closed incident" listen out for tumultuous shouts over the old land.

There are some bald headed men too skittish to use hair restorer, fearing that they might get the carbolic acid bottle accidentally.

A New York millionaire was killed recently by a folding bed. This will cause some of the superstitious to sleep on the floor hereafter.

There is no use speculating now on the population of the country. The final count of the enumerators will upset all our guesses.

Editor McKay is as proud of his 158 majority as he would be of the acquisition of that many subscribers to the Times.

There is so much good in the worst of us that each of us thinks there's more good in us than there really is.

There will be more whiskers on the bench when Hughes takes his seat than there ever was before.

What Collier's is saying about Ballinger may not be a plenty, but Richard seems to think so.

Mobile will be lonesome now for a week or two.

It was a great Ade to the editors.

NEWS AND VIEWS BY STATE PRESS

Mays Worthy.

It may seem a work of supererogation to commend Congressman Mays to Jefferson county voters, but it is pleasant to do it, especially since this commendation may find its way into the columns of other papers in the district.

He has lived squarely up to every plank in the platform on which he was elected. He is redeeming every promise he made. He has secured nearly $500,000 in appropriation for rivers and harbors of his district for one year. Rural free delivery routes have been increased by his efforts, nearly one hundred per cent. As a farmer he is making every effort to encourage agriculture. He has done nothing to invite attack or just criticism, and it will be well for every voter to look well into the influences that are at work to elect Mr. Griggs.

Mays is worthy and is justly entitled to re-election. His freedom from all suspicious friendships, from all corporate influence, his upright bearing and manly character commend him to the voter who desires a clean and able representation in our national body.

Give Mays the votes he deserves and you will serve your district and your country.—Monticello News.

ONE CONDUCTOR WHO WAS CURED.

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes about it—Some time ago I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism. I used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect, and the third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It gave me more relief than any medicine I had ever used, and it will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. W. A. D'Alemberte, druggist and apothecary, 121 S. Palafox St.

Superintendent.

22-STORY BUILDING TO BE TORN DOWN TO MAKE ROOM FOR ONE 42 STORIES HIGH

GILLENGER BLDG WALL AND NASSAU STREETS N.Y.CITY

New York, April 29.—"That's a nice, neat looking building," remarked a stranger as he gazed at the Gillenger building, 1 Nassau street, corner of Wall street. "Yes," replied his guide, "but on May 1 a thousand workmen will be swarming over the twenty-two stories, and in record breaking time what you call a nice building will be torn down." It may sound foolish for an owner to destroy a twenty-two story building that is a perfectly good building just because it is not big enough, but such is the case in the Gillenger building. New York wants a bigger building—in fact, Wall and Nassau streets are to have the tallest office building in the country, a giant that will tower forty-two stories in the air. The owners wanted to start destroying the building April 1, but three tenants had leases until May 1, and notwithstanding the fact that they were offered a bonus of $1,000 each for the extra month they refused to move. But they got out May 1, and then brick by brick down comes the structure to make way for modern progress. The Gillenger is across the street from the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., and the United States sub-treasury.

DITCH SHOULD BE FILLED IN

Numerous complaints are being made regarding the condition of the ditch between Garden and Romana streets which formerly ran through the vacant property south of St. Michael's cemetery. The lower end of this ditch has been filled in, which allows water to stand in that portion between Alcaniz street and Bear's alley.

At some points the water is a foot in depth and has been there such a length of time as to become green. It is filled with filth and if there is a better breeding place for mosquitoes anywhere near Pensacola it has not been discovered.

The place is a menace to the health of those residing in that section, has already caused considerable sickness and should be attended to without further delay by the proper officials.

The Sound Sleep of Good Health
The restorative power of sound sleep can not be over estimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southern, Eau Claire, Wis., says:—"For a long time I have been unable to sleep soundly nights because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley's Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock. I eat and enjoy my meals, and my general condition is greatly improved. I can honestly recommend Foley's Kidney Pills as I know they have cured me." W. A. D'Alemberte, druggist and apothecary, 121 S. Palafox St.

SPECIAL AGENT TREASURY DEPT.

Special Agent Kemp, of the treasury department, who has charge of this district, and whose headquarters are at Tampa, was in the city yesterday on official business. In the late afternoon he was shown points of interest about the city by the collector of the port, Hon. John E. Stillman.

SANDERS BACK FROM MOBILE: HAD FINE TRIP

SAYS THAT OVER 25,000 PEOPLE ATTENDED THE REUNION, WHICH PROVED TO BE A GRAND SUCCESS IN EVERY PARTICULAR.

Chief F. D. Sanders, of the police department, who went to Mobile early in the week, accompanied by Special Officer Anderson, to assist the police of the city in handling the crowds, returned to the city last night and reports having had a fine trip.

Chief Sanders says that over 25,000 people visited Mobile during the reunion and all were well handled by the city and given ample protection by the police of the city under Chief Giffin. Only two arrests of parties classed as suspicious characters were made during the entire reunion, Chief Sanders causing the arrest of one party and the Mobile officers taking another out of a hotel.

Several cities had officers in Mobile, besides Pensacola, among them being Memphis, Montgomery, Birmingham and New Orleans, the chiefs of Birmingham and Montgomery attending. Chief Bonacker of Birmingham and Chief Sanders headed the big parade on Thursday.

Chief Sanders says that everyone is talking about Pensacola, and that much interest is being manifested as to the future of the Deep Water City.

LOOKING FOR MURDERERS.

Camden, Miss., April 29.—With feeling at high tension, search is being made for three unidentified men, who, according to the statement of Emmet Vornor, a farmer, shot him from ambush Monday night. After he was shot Vornor crawled to a thicket where he was found late yesterday, his groans attracting a passerby. Before a physician could arrive Vornor died.

Good results always follow the use of Foley's Kidney Pills. They give prompt relief in all cases of kidney and bladder disorders, are healing, strengthening and antiseptic. Try them. W. A. D'Alemberte, druggist and apothecary, 121 S. Palafox St.

PAMPHLET IS APPRECIATED

Regarding the pamphlet issued by the Pensacola Investment Co., setting forth the advantages of Pensacola, the Sun, of Springfield, Ohio, contains the following:

"Florida city gets out an artistic pamphlet boosting both city and state.

"Chief of Police R. E. O'Brien has received a fine pamphlet issued by the board of trade of Pensacola, Fla., which for the class of work and general design is above anything in the way of a boosting pamphlet that has been seen in this city. The cover is of imitation alligator leather, and the slogan, 'Port of Progress,' is right below the name of the city.

"The pamphlet contains fine cuts of the buildings in the city, its history and a story on the advantages of the state of Florida."

FIVE DOLLARS For a Name

I want a name for my Gulf Beach Inn Pavilion, which, fitted up with every convenience as an attractive holiday resort, will be formally opened SUNDAY, MAY 8. See later announcement.

Send your suggestions plainly written on one side of paper, with your name attached, in sealed envelope, addressed "Capt. Bennie Edmundson, S. Palafox street, City."

NAME CONTEST—All envelopes so received will be opened at the Pavilion, Sunday, May 8, and as opened, suggested names tabulated and numbered. A committee of three or more, non-contestants from the list of names suggested and tabulated, will select therefrom and determine upon the name considered most suitable. Should more than one contestant submit the name selected and determined by the committee as judges as being the most suitable, then same committee shall determine the prize winner by means of the tabulated and numbered list of names suggested, awarding the five dollars to the contestant who appears thereon as first of those who suggested the name.

Announcement

Owing to the inclemency of the weather during the past few days, and the non-arrival of ordered souvenirs, etc., of the occasion, the FORMAL OPENING of my holiday resort—GULF BEACH INN AND PAVILION—is unavoidably postponed until SUNDAY, MAY 8, upon which day (weather permitting) I shall throw open with appropriate ceremony a resort, which, I believe, will, for attractiveness and healthy recreation, become the Mecca of Pensacola holiday makers.

Capt. Bennie Edmundson.

Small Troubles Easily Corrected.

Remember this—we make the best gas known to modern methods and deliver it to you at a proper pressure—night and day. If your gas lights or gas appliances don't give satisfaction, the trouble MUST be local.

If any of your lamps or appliances cause you annoyance, it must be their fault; possibly, merely a speck of dirt or dust obstructing the flow of gas, or a slight correction necessary in their adjustment.

Faults such as these are easily corrected—if you know how—and would take but a moment of our man's time.
